

Only in union with the Lord can we experience His mercy in our lives. And only in union with the Lord can we give witness to His gospel and share with others His mercy, love and peace.

Pope Francis has called us to leave behind our fears and self-interest, in order to put ourselves into contact with the real world where people suffer and rejoice, struggle and work, and are wounded and abandoned. Am I ready to experience God's mercy in my life's journey? Am I ready to be sent as an agent of God's mercy? Let us remember that God's mercy is always with us and that, with Christ, there is true joy and plentiful redemption.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON (or a hymn)

Your merciful love, O God, we have received in the midst of your temple. Your praise, O God, like your name, reaches the ends of the earth; your right hand is filled with saving justice.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM (Ps 65)

ANTIPHON: Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.

RESPONSE: Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.

LECTOR: Cry out with joy to God all the earth, O sing to the glory of his name. O render him glorious praise. Say to God: "How tremendous your deeds!" R.

LECTOR: "Before you all the earth shall bow; shall sing to you, sing to your name!" Come and see the works of God, tremendous his deeds among men. R.

LECTOR: He turned the sea into dry land, they passed through the river dry-shod. Let our joy then be in him; he rules for ever by his might. R.

LECTOR: Come and hear, all who fear God. I will tell what he did for my soul. Blessed be God who did not reject my prayer nor withhold his love from me. R.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION Alleluia, alleluia! May the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, and the fullness of his message live within you. Alleluia!

COMMUNION ANTIPHON (or hymn)

Taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed the man who seeks refuge in him. Or

Come to me, all who labour and are burdened, and I will refresh you, says the Lord.

Bread 4 Today

In the Scriptures, numbers are often used to tell us about something. The number 72 is used several times in the Scriptures. In the Book of Numbers, we find there were 72 elders chosen to assist Moses. Also, there were 72 ornaments in the Tabernacle. And in today's gospel, Jesus sends 70 disciples to preach the gospel.

Reflecting on the use of these numbers, we can determine at least three things: First, it tells us about people whom God chose to bring God's message to the people, to speak on God's behalf. Second, it is about instruments that God uses to reveal God's message of love and mercy. Third, it is about God's message being for everyone, no matter who they are and where they come from. Jesus, in choosing the 72, wants to involve us in His work of mercy. In doing so, Jesus invites us to rejoice because, first of all, God wants us to experience God's love and mercy through the life of His Son.

Jesus' invitation extends to each one of us because we are all God's children, created in God's own image and likeness. So, now it is our turn, like the 72, to be sent out to share Jesus' life with others, so they too can experience His love and receive His mercy.

As we continue our daily life and faith journey, we need to acknowledge that it is an easy call to experience God's mercy but it is not always an easy message to proclaim. But our invitation to share Jesus' life with others is not like a heavy burden to carry. Rather it is an invitation to a journey, a journey of gospel witness, a journey of discipleship as agents of and witnesses to God's love and mercy.

Today's gospel is an invitation for each one of us to a new life. Our committed response to this invitation becomes the foundation from which, firstly, to experience God's mercy in our life, and secondly to allow ourselves to be sent as His witnesses and agents into our wounded world.
